

ABSTRACT

A bottle containment and identifier unit comprising a container having a lid with incorporated apertures therein. The lid has bottle identifiers mounted thereon to prevent user confusion and cross-contamination of each bottle. Alternatively, the bottle identifiers may be affixed to a side of the container. Handles and an associated strap may be affixed to the container used for transporting the unit.